ARE FOR CAKE,
NOT P@$$$WORD$

- Longer is Stronger - Consider 14 character nonsense passphrases
- Employ unique passwords on all systems
- Use Multifactor Authentication whenever it is offered
- If used, put your "special characters" in the middle, not the start or end
- Do not use your web browser to store passwords
- Consider using an approved password manager
- Don't share - you are responsible for everything that happens using your account

Password Example: "Door chair foxtrot" is a good passphrase,
"Fall 2019!" is not good (easy to guess)
